Parents, school board argue at meeting

North Bay third grade moving Monday

CITING A PROBLEM—Elaine Crofts and her eight-year-old son, Tommy, show Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District Trustee Walter Turcott, Thursday night, water fountains at Bay Senior High School are too high for third graders to reach. After a heated meeting with some 30 parents the board voted to reaffirm its previous vote to move the third grade to the high school Monday morning despite patron objections. By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Some 90 North Bay Elementary third grade students will be moved to classrooms at Bay Senior High School Monday morning in spite of numerous objections by outraged parents.

In fact, several parents have stated they would not send their third grade children to school Monday to attend classes at the senior high school.

The children will be moved from deteriorating portable buildings at North Bay to three classrooms at the end of the east wing of the high school facility.

The Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District Board of Trustees reaffirmed its intentions to proceed with the move Thursday night after a heated meeting in the high school library with some 30 parents.

At several points during the meeting vigorous arguments erupted between parents and board members.

Sam Cuevas told the board, "I agree the trailers are not safe nor are they adequate. But I disagree with the method which the board has chosen to settle this issue."

"I feel any movement should have been planned prior to the end of the last school year and not on a spur of the moment decision, but on well thought out and planned decisions," Cuevas stated.

"North Bay will still be just as crowded as before and the senior high will have a whole new set of problems to deal with," he said.

"I ask that the board cancel the scheduled move and allow time for an orderly and sensible plan to be developed," Cuevas added.

"I don't believe it will be possible to completely isolate the third graders. You would need two extra people, one male and one female, just to police the rest room area," he noted.

"The board needs to find something other than stop-gap measures," Cuevas said.

"In the end, the problems we face will only be solved by communication between the board and the administration and good affirmative long-range planning," he stated.

"I also ask that you come up with a plan to permanently remove the trailers from North Bay and that a construction plan for the entire school district be proposed," Cuevas concluded.

Cuevas offered two alternative measures to the board which called for either not moving any classes and purchasing new trailers for use only until the end of the present school year or delaying any move until Christmas holidays with the sixth grade moving to Bay Junior High School and a ninth grade move to the senior high school.

Patricia Hille, another parent, stated, "This proposed move of our third graders—so ill conceived, ill planned and ill timed—seems to be a matter of physical facilities to you, not people!"

"How dare you individuals of this board go meekly along with your yeas votes, offering no discussion on a matter that so gravely affects the well being of our children," Hille said.

"I would like to remind you that you are servants of the public, custodians of our most prized treasures—our children!" she noted.

Shoreline resident stabbed

By ELLIS CUEVAS

A Thursday night stabbing incident ended with one person in jail and another in the hospital, according to the Hancock County Sheriff's office.

Investigator Alvin Ladner reported the sheriff's dispatcher received a call about 9 p.m. reporting a stabbing victim in the Hancock General Hospital emergency room.

"Meanwhile Ralph H. Kenmore of Rt. 2, Box 596F, Shoreline Park, Bay St. Louis appeared at the sheriff's office wanting to press charges against someone for trying to run over him with an auto," Ladner said.

The incident was alleged to have happened during a fight on Tiger Street in Shoreline Park, according to police.

After some questioning, Ladner said he was able to tie the stabbing incident in with Kenmore.

David Rathemel, 1443 Niagara, Shoreline Park was at Hancock General with stab wounds in the chest, stomach and thigh, according to investigator Delbert Seay.

The victim was taken to Gulfport Memorial by Mobil Medie for surgery and reported in stable but critical condition and in intensive care late Friday.

Ladner said that Rathemel was driven to HGH by his wife after the stabbing.

Kenmore is lodged at the Hancock County jail, charged with aggravated assault with bond set at $25,000 according to Seay.

The two investigators said the case is still being investigated. The stabbing weapon was described as a large pocket knife.

"Make no mistake about it, I am not for keeping the 'junk' trailers. I am alarmed for my child's physical safety in these trailers," Hille said.

Hille endorsed Cuevas' plan to replace the portable classrooms with new temporary structures, but asked the board to place the buildings "more judiciously so that they do not interfere (as the current trailers do) with the light and air circulation in the permanent classrooms."

Mrs. Sam (Mike) Cuevas stated, "I did a lot of research on this matter with education professors and not one said this move was good."

"In fact, they all said this is the most ridiculous thing they had ever heard of," she added.

Hille presented Board President Virginia Gex a list of 10 parents who could not attend the meeting and a petition protesting the move signed by some 30 parents.

Board member Betty Diboll stated, "I'm sitting here with my blood boiling and we look like boogaboos."

"There are five accidents in those trailers that might happen anytime. We don't want to uproot children, but we're concerned about the life and limb of our children," Diboll explained.

Board member Walter Turcott asked how many parents attending the meeting had inspected the interior of the portable buildings. Some eight parents raised their hands.

Board member Maurice Singleton explained, "We wanted to eliminate the trailers and put up permanent buildings. If we put up more trailers they will also become permanent buildings."

"We didn't have any idea so many parents were opposed to the move," he added.

Grand Jury recesses, investigation stalled

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The Hancock County Grand Jury which was empaneled in July and recalled in October, recessed Thursday until Monday, November 24, at 9:30 a.m.

A report issued by Foreman James J. McCarthy indicates the group has returned a total of 64 indictments this far in its term.

The report states the Grand Jury, in addition, has been "investigating several important matters...."

"But we find that additional investigation is needed before we can make a final determination on these matters," the report states further.

The Grand Jury is believed to be investigating emergency repair expenditures at Gulfview Elementary School in Lakeshore following a tornado in late May.

The report to Hancock Circuit Court Judge Rubie Griffin of Bay St. Louis who is presiding over the October court term, requests the Grand Jury be allowed to return in late November "...at which time we will conclude our matters and submit our final report."

Deer shiners fined $878, receive one year probation

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Two Pearlinton residents Wednesday were fined $878 each for headlighting deer by Justice Court Judge Lee Klein.

John Carver and Darrell Kennedy were fined $600 each for headlighting deer, $139 each for hunting from a public highway, and $139 each for illegal equipment, according to court records.

In addition to the fines, each was given suspended 15-day jail sentences and placed on probation for one year.

Judge Klein stated the two were arrested by Mississippi Wildlife Enforcement Officers Pat Toomey, C. J. Cameron and Ronald Ladner several weeks ago.

The hunters also lose hunting privileges for one year in the state because of the conviction.

Hancock County Prosecutor John Genin represented the State in the poaching case.

One jailed in 603 wreck

By ELLIS CUEVAS

A Friday night accident on Hwy. 603 just south of Hwy. 43 sent two people to Gulfport Memorial for treatment, according to Highway Patrolman David Kenny.

The accident involved drivers Ronald Jones of Kiln and Orville Mitchell of Pearlinton.

The highway patrolman said that Jones was traveling north and Mitchell south, both on Hwy. 603. Mitchell allegedly turned in front of Jones, according to the investigators.

Kenny said both were taken by Mobile Medie to Gulfport Memorial for treatment.

Mitchell was later lodged at the Hancock County jail and placed under a $10,000 bond after release from the hospital. He is charged with driving while under the influence and carrying a concealed weapon.

Jones, who was pinned in his car, was kept in the Gulfport hospital for observation, suffering bruises, according to Kenny.

Kenny was assisted by Highway Patrolman Mike Cox, Hancock Deputies Fairley Neece and Ronnie Cuevas, and personnel of Diamondhead Fire Department Rescue Unit and the Kiln Volunteer Fire Department.

Illegal tag crackdown scheduled by sheriff

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Roadblocks similar to those set up earlier this year by the Hancock County Sheriff's office will be used in two weeks for the checking of out of town license tags, expired tags and brake tags, according to Sheriff Ronald Peterson.

Peterson said, "We have been receiving many complaints, particularly around construction sites of out of town license tags. We will be checking these as well as expired tags throughout the County."

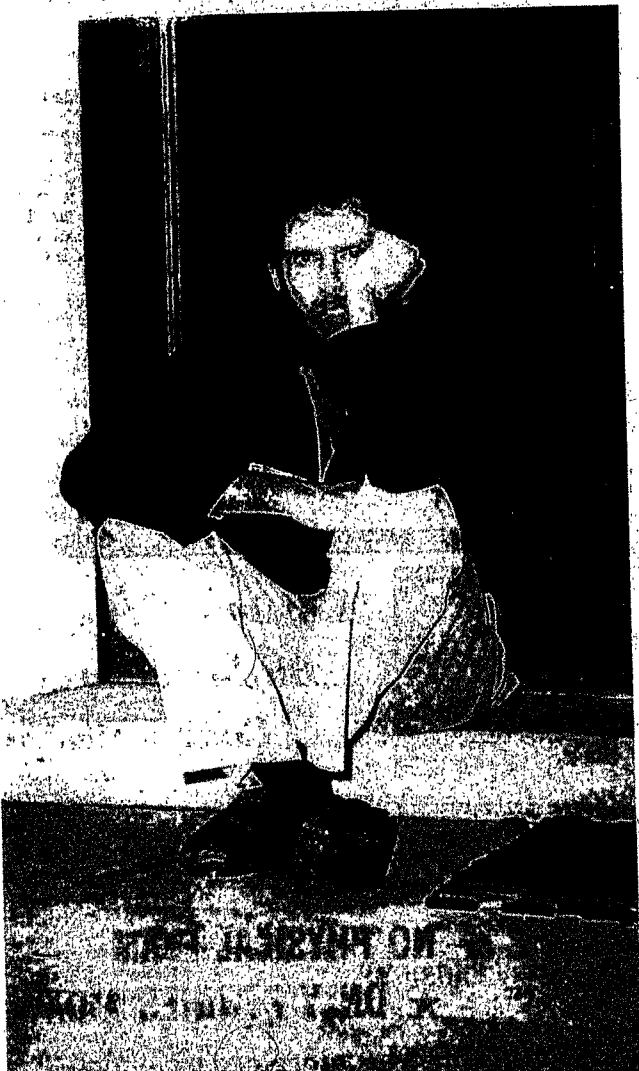

In a crackdown last spring, over 200 tickets were issued within a few weeks by the sheriff's department at road blocks to all types of violations.

"Persons moving into our county have 30 days to get Mississippi tags and drivers licenses. There is no exemption with the exception of active military personnel," Peterson commented.

Peterson added, "We wrote about 20 or 30 citations last year in a few hours at every roadblock. This year we will have to issue many more. We will enforce the law."

"Out of town license tags were found in many places at schools as well as in homes and businesses," Peterson said.

COURTHOUSE VIGIL—John Netto of Gulfport arouses from a night's sleep on the Hancock County Courthouse steps in Bay St. Louis where he has been arrested several times in the last two weeks by Bay St. Louis Police and Hancock sheriff's deputies on charges of loitering, disturbing the peace and disobeying a lawful order. The former Bay St. Louis resident is engaged in a crusade to secure copies of court reporter Joan Crawford's notes from a Gulfport trial over which Circuit Court Judge Rubie Griffin presided, both of whom have been in session this month in Hancock Circuit Court. The Gulfport trial of interest to Netto involved assault charges in which Netto's brother Michael was injured and two other men killed outside a Gulfport lounge early last year. A woman was acquitted of shooting charges in the trial. Griffin said Thursday he would only release an official transcript of Netto's trial. But Netto, who is unhappy with the outcome of the trial, does not want an official transcript because he feels the facts in the case could be altered out of context. In addition, he has refused to eat while in Hancock County Jail. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

ARGUING WITH PARENTS—Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District board member Betty Diboll, right, argues issues with parents at a special meeting, at the Bay Senior High School library Thursday night, airing objections to a board decision to move the North Bay Elementary third grade classes to the high school Monday morning. The board voted the trailer move, but we oppose the manner you're doing this."

Singleton noted, "It appears to me you think we're throwing the children out to the wolves."

Hille blurted, "Right."

"It was decided previously and never rescinded to send sixth grade students to the junior high and ninth grade students to the senior high," Hille noted.

A parent asked, "Why are you (the board) opposed to a sixth and ninth grade move?"

Gex replied, "It presents scheduling problems and it disrupts too many children at this time."

Another parent said, "I realize moving the sixth and ninth graders will disrupt the teacher's schedule, but you're talking about moving my little boy to a high school."

"What we're going to have to do is work this out another way. There's got to be another way because of all these people here!" he firmly stated.

Another patron said, "It seems the sixth and ninth grade move would effect the teachers more than the students. It seems like the teachers could cope a lot better."

Singleton replied, "I think you were misinformed, it just wouldn't effect the teachers."

Diboll noted, "It would mean six buses a day crossing U.S. 90."

Andrews Wilkinson, of Waveland, an American Federation of Teachers staff member, stated, "My organization unanimously condemns the third grade move. The move has no educational value whatsoever."

"I checked with the State Department of Education and they said they had never heard of something so silly," Wilkinson reported.

Mike Cuevas said, "You are putting my impressionable eight-year-old girl in a high school situation."

She noted a policy the board approved in which third grade children at the high school would be accompanied to rest rooms by an adult after all high school students were out of the facilities.

"How long is the policy going to go on to see that our children are protected?" Mike Cuevas asked.

Another mother stated, "I don't think my children should be in a senior high school. My child has been hit by a sixth grader. I'd hate to see a 10th grader do something like that."

Diboll reported, "I'm aware of the problems, but the school board in no way just quickly accepted the proposal to move the third grade."

"We felt at the time this was the best proposal. We catch the devil if we do and if we don't," she said.

A disgusted mother angrily stated, "What gripes me so bad is you all have got your minds made up. I can look at all of you and tell."

Singleton shot back, "If our minds are made up I wouldn't be here. We want to hear pro and con. You're still accusing us of being the villain."

Another parent asked skeptically, "They're going to check the bathrooms each time a third grader wants to use the bathroom?"

"The kids here are dealing pot and pills in the parking lot every day," he angrily stated.

Singleton suggested, "Let's try to solve the problems and stop trying to accuse the board."

A parent asked, "How many eight-year-olds can be put on a time limit? You can't tell an eight-year-old to wait to go to the bathroom."

Another parent asked, "How are you going to schedule supervision of kids going to the bathrooms?"

Superintendent of Education J.D. McCulloch stated, "We feel like the students will be protected at all times. Our schools are being protected at this very moment."

"When I came here several years ago we had grades one through 12 at one school. Those children were protected by teachers," he noted.

Hille told McCulloch, "I think you have your head buried in the sand. I can't tell you how many times I've found kids under the pine trees at the high school smoking pot."

The superintendent stated, "I'd like to respond to your statement about pot. I know nothing about that. If we knew that it would have been taken care of."

Hille asked McCulloch, "You're not in favor of a sixth and ninth grade move?"

The superintendent replied, "No I'm not, but our long-range plan is a six-three-three plan."

Sam Cuevas stated, "I don't see how you can supervise these kids going to the bathroom."

Gex then recessed the meeting and invited parents to inspect the classroom areas to be used by the third grade students.

Several parents noted that water fountains, urinals and sinks were too high off the floor for the eight-year-old children to reach.

The board then reconvened in the board room at the senior high. All of the parents at the library meeting jammed into the board room.

A mother asked Turcott to join her in the hallway where she and her eight-year-old son demonstrated the water fountains were too high for eighth graders to reach.

When Turcott returned to the board room he restated how the board had reached the decision regarding the third grade move and pledged to monitor the third grade students at the high school.

Hille said after Turcott's report, "I would like the board to consider the alternate plans Cuevas presented."

Turcott said new trailers would cost $60,000.

Hille shot back, "We're not in favor of trailers, but don't let us go home with nothing being done tonight. This plan is unacceptable!"

Gex angrily stated, "Every proposal was considered and a decision was made after considering this a long time."

"When your children are sitting in those trailers they could be electrocuted," Gex nervously added.

Hille screamed, "You don't even have a child in this school system." Gex screamed back, "That doesn't make a difference."

Singleton began to leave the meeting, but Gex asked him to stay for a board vote regarding the third grade.

However, Singleton replied, "Since I made up my mind already, there's no reason for me to vote."

Singleton left the board room. Gex, Diboll and Turcott unanimously approved a motion to abide by the third grade plan.

Hille angrily stated, "I make a motion that no third grade children be sent to school."

After the meeting adjourned stunned parents in the hallways made comments which included remarks like:

"I can't believe the board made such a decision."

"I think we ought to take the board back to court."

"It wasn't on the agenda that they would make this decision."

"I thought it was wrong to tell the board they had their mind made up."

"There's no way a third grader can reach one of these water fountains."

"If my kids nose gets a busted lip I'll come in here with a baseball bat."

"If any of those older kids touch my child it's all over."

"If I had the money for three trailers I'd buy them for the school."

"The money they're spending on playground equipment could be used for trailers."

"Sixth and ninth graders could cope better with a move."

"Those kids will go double traumatic no matter what they say."

"The board knew they were going to do this all the time."

The Sea Coast Echo recently reported Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District Board of Trustees' acceptance of a recommendation to hire Kelly McQueen as district business manager was unanimous.

However, board minutes reflect member Walter Turcott voted against the recommendation.

In addition, Turcott abstained from the vote fixing McQueen's salary.

The previous edition of The Sea Coast Echo inadvertently listed Drs. John Stripling III and Thad Carter, both of Gulfport, as neurologists when in fact the two doctors practice urology.

SBA disaster loans available in Hancock

Sam M. Baker, district director for the U.S. Small Business Administration in Mississippi reports due to severe storms, flooding and tornadoes occurring on or about March 26, 1980, the President has declared. In addition as a result of Forrest, Harrison, Jackson, Marion and adjacent counties torrid rains and tornadoes, the administrator of SBA declared Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, and adjacent counties eligible for disaster loan assistance.

Under these declarations, affected businesses, including shrimpers and related industries, are eligible to apply for Economic Injury Disaster Loans.

The filing deadline for Economic Injury Loans as a result of the May declaration (No. 185312) is March 31, 1981, and for the March declaration (No. 182506) is January 19, 1981.

"The amount of economic injury has no bearing on these loan approvals," Baker said. "They are designed to help applicants meet obligations they could have met had the disaster not occurred and to provide working capital for continued operations."

Business owners in Forrest, Harrison, Hancock, Jackson and Marion may receive EIDL loans to cover equipment cost, mortgages and other obligations. But they cannot be used for expansion of facilities or to provide payment of dividends or bonuses to owners, partners, officers or stockholders.

To qualify, the business must be classified a "small business" and the individuals must prove their business has suffered substantial economic injury as a direct result of this disaster.

Proof of severe financial loss can be established through balance sheets, income statements, tax returns, listing of delinquent accounts receivable, listing of delinquent accounts payable, and other such financial data.

A credit test also is required. According to Baker, the loan amount is determined by the applicant's needs. Repayment terms are based upon ability to repay.

County Agent's Notes

by John Smith

Overseeding ryegrass or clover-ryegrass mixtures on closely grazed bahia grass, bermudagrass and dallisgrass pastures offers economical winter and spring grazing for the brood cow herd plus serves as a back-up to a stocker grazing program, County Agents John W. Smith reports.

"It is best to overseed permanent sods with ryegrass no more often than every other year. Overseeding every year can damage the grass stand and increase summer weed problems," Smith says. Select fields which will allow the breeding program to be managed and where controlled grazing can be practiced," the county agent states.

If areas to be overseeded have a heavy sod, harvest for hay, clip close or concentrate cattle to graze off as much top growth as possible. A sod taller than 3 inches will slow ryegrass growth and often little grazable forage will be produced before early spring," he explains.

"Overseeding into the sod with no soil disturbance usually causes ryegrass to grow off slowly. Shallow pre-planting cultivation helps provide the ryegrass seed good soil contact and helps reduce competition from the existing sod," Smith states.

"A springtime harrow or field cultivator with pasture plow points triple K type or a pulverizing disk with most of the set removed will usually give adequate surface cultivation," he notes.

In heavy sods, two or more trips with these implements may be necessary. After seeding, a harrow run at a 45-degree angle to the direction of cultivator or disk will help cover seed and smooth the field," the county agent suggests.

"Many older pastures have soil compaction problems and deeper renovation when overseeding will greatly increase overall productivity. A spring-time pasture renovator run 8-10 inches deep on contour will help eliminate this problem and provide an excellent seedbed. This renovation loosens the compacted soil layer and allows moisture, organic residues and surface applied lime and fertilizer to move into the root area," Smith explains.

Increased forage production can be expected next season from these renovated fields. Where a subsoiler or chisel plow is used, it usually requires a disk to level the field. Following renovation with any implement, the field should be leveled, planted and seed covered.

"Planting 30-40 pounds of ryegrass seed per acre in mid-october will usually allow grazing by early January if adequately nitrified. The most efficient utilization of nitrogen fertilizer results when a small amount is applied at planting and the balance, to bring the total applied to at least 60 pounds actual per acre, is topdressed after ryegrass is up to a stand. Applying a full rate of nitrogen at planting may give ryegrass a quicker start, but the permanent sod will sometimes be stimulated and use some of this nitrogen. Lime, phosphorus and potash for the whole year can be applied at this time," the county agent recommends.

"Where it is desirable to add a clover to the permanent sod it can easily be applied during overseeding. Ryegrass seeding rate is best dropped to 20-25 pounds per acre to reduce competition," Smith says.

To successfully grow clovers on your overseeded sod pastures, early growing season management must favor the clovers so they can be established," he adds.

The annual clovers adapted to Central and South Mississippi are crimson (Autauga, Chief, Dixie, Tibbee), subclover (Mt. Barker, Woogenellup, Tallarood), arrowleaf (Yuchi, Meechee) and ball clover.

Smith says the white clovers (La. S-1, Merit, Regal) are the perennial clovers recommended.

"Red clover (Redland, Kenland, Kenstar, Orbit) a biennial, long growing clover, works well for grazing and hay. The later maturing ryegrass blends appear to fit well with red clover or arrowleaf clover to provide grazing into the early summer. Inoculate all clover seed with the specific inoculant for the variety planted," he suggests.

"Several advantages of including clovers are greater intake of forage, better milkflow, higher conception rates, higher calf weaning weights, plus they provide some nitrogen for use by the companion grass," Smith adds.

Bits 'n pieces

Did you forget to move your clock back last night? If so, you still have another hour to sleep. Good night!

Very good progress has been made with folks getting the graves of their loved ones cleaned for All Saints.

The City of Bay St. Louis has been working very hard to do its part, and we hope that everyone will get their trash together before All Saints Day.

Some cooperation is needed in order for our cemeteries to look the best on All Saints Day.

We hear of a lot of football stars being sidelined because of injuries.

Well Hancock County's Super Duper Quarterback Sheriff Ronald (Ronnie) Peterson is the latest to join folks like Terry Bradshaw and Greg Morton. We ask ourselves this question, is Peterson in that league? The sheriff injured his knee Thursday night in the flag football league in Bay St. Louis, where he is the star quarterback of one of the teams.

In all seriousness, we wish Ronnie luck in getting his knee back in shape.

If you need a haircut, you can get one today and also help the United Way at the same time.

Johnny Miller, owner of Shear's Delight, U.S. 90, Bay St. Louis and his staff will conduct a cut-a-thon from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

All proceeds will go towards the United Way, which we understand the 1980 campaign is not moving along too well.

Miller goes this each year for the local fund drive and he and his staff should be thanked for their fine efforts for such a worthy endeavour.

Athletes' Hearts Usually Healthy

It's the loafer's heart that is more likely to cause trouble—not the athlete's heart.

The notion that the athlete's heart is abnormal and abnormally enlarged has long been exposed as a myth, says the American Medical Association.

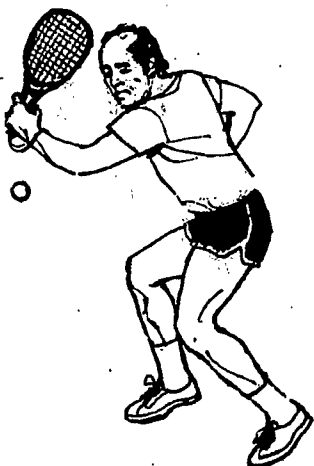

The athlete has for years been coached to extend himself beneficially beyond the early stages of fatigue in a progressive training program. As a result his heart pumps a greater output of blood per minute with fewer beats. It relaxes longer and more completely between beats. The heart works more efficiently at rest and far more capably during activity.

As the body's prime endurance muscle, the athlete's heart enlarges only moderately if at all, and reverts to initial size when rigorous training ceases. There is no evidence to show that exercise has ever damaged a normal, healthy heart in a properly conditioned athlete.

Hearts are weakened by disease or congenital defects, not by sports. However, considerable exertion is needed to "train" a heart and keep it trained, and this stress can be harmful if disease or defect is present. This is one of the reasons for thorough physical examination of all prospective athletes.

The loafer's heart is only seemingly healthy. Its level of tolerance is geared only to the sedentary life that produced it, and may not suffice at moments of unusual stress, such as fast snow shoveling on a winter morning. The loafer's heart is also more vulnerable to emotional pressures and excessive smoking.

A strong, healthy heart is by no means the exclusive property of the varsity athlete or the pro. And he won't keep it permanently unless he keeps up with physical exercise after his sports career ends.

Almost anyone can have an athlete's strong heart, through regular exercise to build endurance and stamina, within the bounds of the individual's interests, capabilities and limitations.

Businesses sensitive to non-smokers eligible for Lung Association citation

Public places in Mississippi which provide non-smoking areas are eligible to receive a special certificate of appreciation from the Mississippi Lung Association.

Mrs. Allen Edwards of Indianola, president of the Christmas Seal voluntary health organization, said that keeping the air clean and protecting lung health is considered a vital matter of "life and death."

"The Mississippi Lung Association commends establishments which provide special non-smoking areas and the certificate will help to make this service more visible," Mrs. Edwards added.

Requests for non-smoking areas in restaurants, hospitals, nursing homes, doctor's offices, grocery stores and other public meeting places are increasing in Mississippi and the nation.

Approximately two-thirds of the people in the United States do not smoke and many restaurants now provide smoke-free areas for their customers.

"Thank You for Not Smoking" is a polite request, but can be a matter of great concern to persons with breathing difficulties which are aggravated by tobacco smoke.

Smoke filled areas can present problems to nonsmokers and those suffering from asthma, emphysema, allergies or other respiratory problems.

Businessmen also reduce risk of fire, cigarette burns on merchandise or fixtures by reducing smoking in their establishments, Mrs. Edwards added.

To receive the certificate of merit for providing smoke free areas, contact the Mississippi Lung Association, Post Office Box 9665, Jackson, MS 39206.

MISSISSIPPI ECONOMIC COUNCIL NEWS

In 1776, the Scottish philosopher Adam Smith published "The Wealth of Nations," a work destined to become the economic cornerstone of the new nation called the United States.

In his publication, Smith condemned mercantilism, the dominant economic theory of his day which sought enrichment of the state through government regulation of trade, commerce, and finance.

Smith took exception to the view of mercantilism. He defined the wealth of a nation not as the amount of gold and silver it possessed, but as the land, products, and people of that nation. He believed that wealth resulted not from state intervention in the economy but from "economic liberty," the freedom of the individual to work, to produce, and to enjoy the fruits of his labor.

He called for an end to government intervention in the economy, calling, instead, for the right of an individual to shift for himself, to find by trial and error the work he could do and the place he could fill in the economic life of the community.

Smith was writing a description of the free enterprise system, a system adopted by the young American nation.

Free enterprise served the young nation well. In little more than a century, the United States vaulted from a backward, undeveloped land into the world's strongest industrial power. By the twentieth century, its people had achieved a standard of living and a degree of freedom unparalleled in human history.

Adam Smith's free enterprise system proved the most effective, efficient economic system ever devised.

Now, despite its startling success, the nation's free enterprise economic system is under attack, criticized as insensitive, uncaring, selfish; and doubted by those who suddenly seem to find profits as "evil," and who would arbitrarily attempt to redistribute the nation's wealth without regard to personal effort or personal production.

The message is this: The American enterprise system has produced for this nation and her people the highest standard of living and the greatest freedom ever known to man; yet the system is in danger of being destroyed.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Involved North Bay parent dissatisfied with third grade plan

Oct. 24, 1980
Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:

As a concerned parent of the Bay-Waveland area with a child that will be directly involved in the planned move of third graders to the Senior High, I want to state that I am in favor of no move by any child or grade at this time for obvious educational conflicts.

I am not blaming the Board of Trustees for their decision Thursday evening as they felt they were being held responsible for the plan suggested by the administrators.

From what I gathered, each member had a different idea to solve the problem, but followed suit with the accepted idea to quickly end the problems.

But in fact, they are only causing problems far larger than the existing one.

This problem I see to be easily resolved by getting new (temporary) trailers until the end of this school year, then by acting on the proposed move of sixth grade to the Junior High and of ninth grade to the Senior High for the 1981-82 school term, thus alleviating the same problem for the next year.

I have thought on this matter a great deal, in view of my involvement. I attended the meeting Sunday at the library, the PTO meeting Tuesday, the meeting of the board of education at the high school, and met personally with Mr. McCulloch, superintendent of schools.

I appreciate greatly their listening to parents and concerned citizens of this community, but the problem has not been resolved.

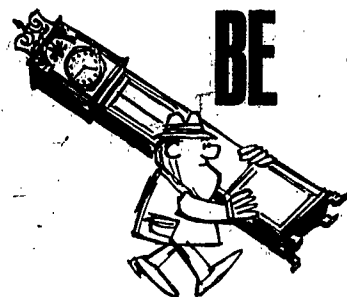

The proposed move or alternative moves would cost the city more money than leasing trailers for the remainder of this school year.

I want to say that I hope the school board will meet again privately and discuss this further without the accusing atmosphere of Thursday evening.

I am pleading, not demanding for them to consider other alternatives less costly and more suitable to the general welfare of all the student bodies of this city.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Christine Hutchison
Bay St. Louis

The Bottom Line

Candid Answers To Your Questions About Advertising and Business Topics.

By S. GALE DENLEY
Associate Professor of Journalism
University of Mississippi

My advertising gets people in the store, but I have the feeling my sales and service people don't follow up on the promises we make. I give them pep talks, but it doesn't seem to help. Any suggestions?

Dear AS: Your problem is not unique—this happens any time a business outgrows a one or two-man show. But yes, you can do something about it.

A frequent cause of such breakdowns is the failure to include your sales and service personnel in plans for special sales and promotions—another is simply a poor attitude on their part, usually resulting from misunderstanding or ignorance.

In the first instance you might consider the benefits of foregoing one of your pep talks and having a session with employees on their ideas for promotions.

Quite often they are closer to the customer than you are and can, thus, give valuable insight on promotions and promises that will work. They can often point out needless sales, and will be services that you may feel are vital.

The important thing is to include them in the decisions, as your agents they will ultimately determine your success or failure in trying to gain and retain customers.

But before you launch a program of employee involvement in management decisions you may need to pursue the moral problem a bit.

There are many notions about how this should be done. Most represent facts that have come about to replace ideas that did not work.

One incident in this regard overshadows all the theories I've seen, heard and read about.

It was simple, and happened a long time ago. The fact that I remember it, and the fact that the man who is the central figure went on to be a highly successful businessman attests to its value.

Faced with competition from a former employee, he called the staff together.

First, he told them he knew that the new competitor was a friend of theirs. But, he said, that had nothing to do with their present employment.

Secondly, he pointed out that the employee who left, was no longer doing anything in their interest.

"You may feel sympathetic," he said, "but remember, his success is coming at your expense. To be sure, it's at mine, too. But, I'll be the last one here, if things go badly."

"So your job and well-being here demands your loyalty to this company, and to each other—not just to me."

We listened and I still hear it when I feel or sense disloyalty. He was right and he had the right to demand loyalty from all of us and for all of us.

The reaction was not immediate, but I noticed a new attitude in the store. Customers noticed it, too.

Rocks defeat Bay High, 12-6

Stanislaus is 1980 county champions

By Randy Ponder

Rock-A-Chaw quarterback Joe Gex connected on a 14 yard strike to Brad Lamey late in the fourth quarter to break a 6-6 tie in St. Stanislaus-Bay High football rivalry event Friday night.

St. Stanislaus hung on to edge the Tigers 12-6.

A high snap from center led to the Rock's first touchdown. Bay High recieved to start the contest but was unable to move the football.

Facing fourth down and 10 on their own 10, the Tigers dropped back into a punting formation. Punter Van Fayard had to leap high into the cool night air to catch the football and by the time he had possession of the ball he was surrounded by Rock-A-Chaws. Fayard tried to run with the ball but to no avail and was tackled on his own five.

The Tiger's goal line defense dug in and stopped the Rocks on their first three attempts and forced a time out with the football on the four and the Rocks facing fourth and goal.

On the ensuing play Dennis Scardino took a pitchout from quarterback Mark Schultz and raced into the endzone for St. Stanislaus' first score.

Juan Betanzos' PAT was wide of the mark but the Rock-A-Chaws had an early six point lead in the annual Bay St. Louis shootout played this year at the Rock's home field.

The Tigers again had difficulty in moving the pigskin on their next possession and on a third down play a long pass from Tiger quarterback Steve Seymour was intercepted by Juan Betanzos.

Following a clipping penalty on the run back, the Rocks had the football on their own 10. Behind the determined running of Mike Hourin and Joe Gex, St. Stanislaus moved the football steadily down field.

As the second quarter started the Rock-A-Chaw drive stalled at the Bay High 19. A 35 yard fieldgoal attempt by Betanzos missed and the Tigers took control of the ball on the 20.

After an exchange of punts the Rocks had the football deep in their own territory. On a second down play the ball was fumbled and Van Fayard made the recovery for the Tigers.

It took Bay High only two plays to go the 14 yards for the touchdown. Alex Harrington took a pitchout from Seymour and scored on a ten yard sweep around the left end. Some excellent blocking combined with Harrington's speed made the play work.

Van Fayard's extra point attempt was no good and the contest remained knotted at six points apiece.

Rousing performances by both the Tiger Pride band and the Rock-A-Chaw band highlighted the halftime activities.

Two scoring opportunities by St. Stanislaus were stifled in the third quarter by turnovers caused by the hard hitting Tiger defense.

One Rock-A-Chaw drive was killed at the Tiger 25 when David Gillum recovered a loose football for Bay High.

Another St. Stanislaus threat was stopped at the Tiger goal line when the ball popped loose and straight up into the hands of Stephen Hargett who returned the football to the Bay High 18.

The Tigers seemed to have momentum and moved the ball for a couple of firstdowns before a loss of 15 yards on a quarterback sack forced a punt.

On the punt the Tigers were guilty of interfering with a fair catch. The 15 yard penalty gave St. Stanislaus good field position but the Bay High defense stiffened and the Rocks were forced to try another long fieldgoal.

Betanzos' kick sailed to the left of the uprights on the 48 yard attempt.

Bay High got the ball back on the 20 midway through the final period. Bad luck visited the Tigers again as a Bay High pass was intercepted by Marc Meyer and returned to the Tiger's 24.

Several plays latter quarterback Joe Gex hit Brad Lamey for the touchdown. The pass play covered 14 yards and gave the Rocks a 12-6 lead. A two point conversion attempt failed.

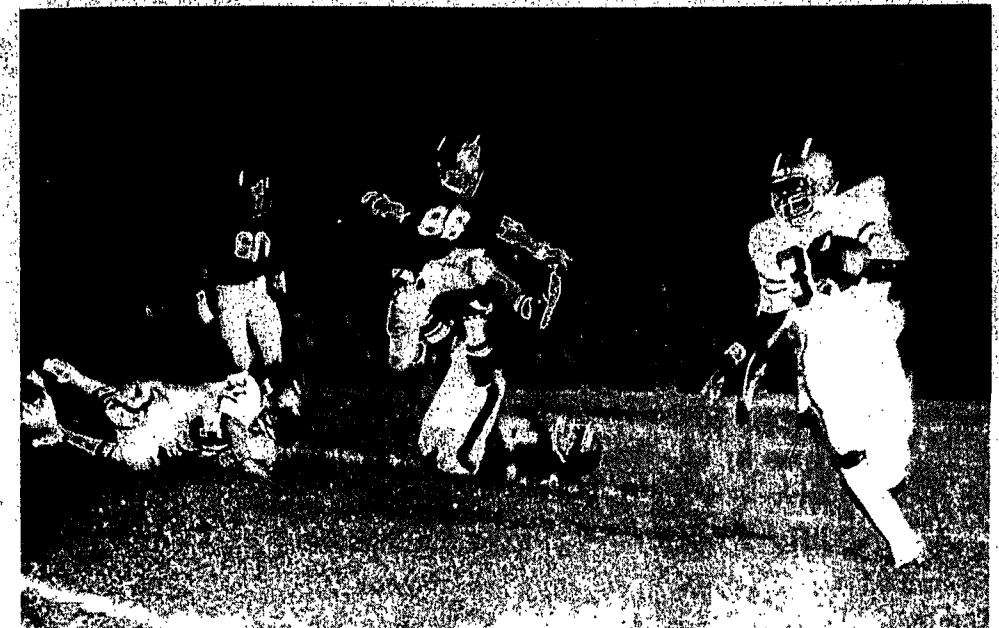

Bay High still had a chance to win, trailing by only six points. The Tigers moved the ball to the Rock-A-Chaw 38 before their last chance drive stalled. St. Stanislaus took over on downs and ran the clock out.

"It was a good football game. Both teams were well prepared," St. Stanislaus coach Barry Jones commented. "It turned out just as it was billed, a close exciting football game. Bay High has a good team. They've been in every game they've played this year and they gave us a heck of a struggle. It took one of our better performances to come out a winner in this game," Jones added.

"They did all I could ask from them," Bay High coach James (Snuffy) Smith said of his team's effort against St. Stanislaus. "They played good hard football for four quarters. We have a lot of people who play on both the defense and the offense. It takes a super effort to stay out there for four quarters under those conditions," Smith added.

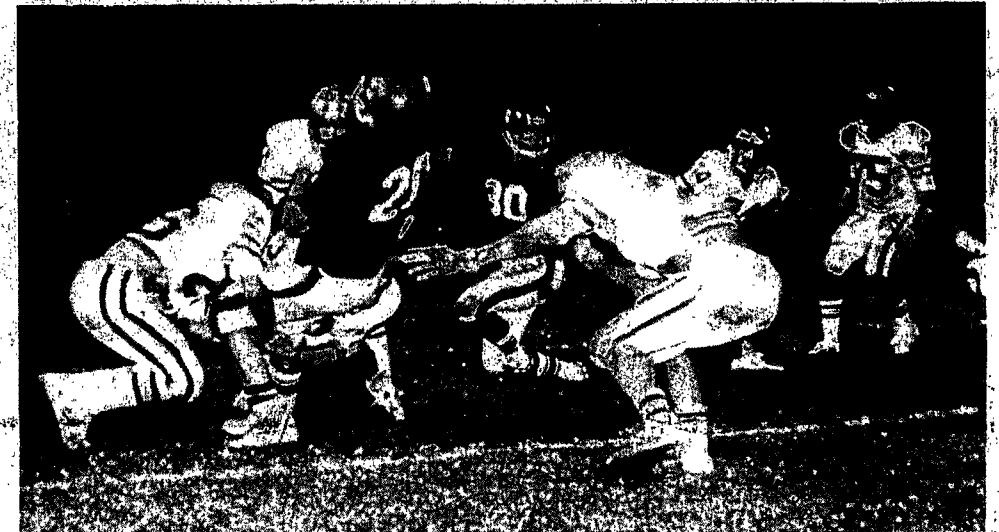

"Our 1-7 record does not reflect the effort our kids have put forth this year," coach Smith commented. The desire to win is there and the program is moving in the right direction, it's just a matter of time.

"One of our big concerns is that a lot of ninth grade football players quit when they get to the senior high," Smith stated. "I think some of these boys may have satisfied

TOUCHDOWN RUN—Tiger runningback Alex Harrington races for the goal line during first half action of the Bay High-St. Stanislaus football game. Both teams played tough clean football in a contest that saw a total of only nine penalties all night.

Although Harrington scored this touchdown with the help of some fine blocking, the Rock-A-Chaws eventually won the Friday night game, 12-6. (Staff photo-Randy Ponder)

DEFENSE CLOSES IN—The Bay High defensive unit stops Mike Hourin for little or no gain during fourth quarter action of the Bay High-St. Stanislaus game. The Rocks managed to pick up 11 first downs and 245 yards rushing. The Tigers had 3 first downs and 28 yards rushing. Bay High passed for 56 yards, St. Stanislaus for 16. Both teams had two turnovers. The Rock-A-Chaws won the contest, 12-6. (Staff photo-Randy Ponder)

No. 80, Brad Lamey scores touchdown for Rock-A-Chaws.

ELUDES TACKLE—Fullback Mike Hourin, No. 20 of St. Stanislaus, manages to get away from this would be tackler to pick up a few more yards. Hourin rushed for 123 yards on 20 carries during the contest. Rocks quarterback Joe Gex also rushed for over 100 yards as St. Stanislaus defeated Bay High, 12-6. (Staff photo-Randy Ponder)

QUARTERBACK IN TROUBLE—St. Stanislaus quarterback Joe Gex is about to be sacked by Gary Karl of the Tigers. The Rocks came out on top of the contest, 12-6. Neither team was able to score after a point. St. Stanislaus is the 1980 Hancock County champions, having beaten both Bay High and Hancock North Central. (Staff photo-Randy Ponder)

Pirates scuttle Hornets, 22-0

By EDGAR PEREZ

Pass Christian's Pirates Friday night outclassed the hapless East Central Hornets in the bees' Wade, Mississippi nest, blanking the hosts and capping a third touchdown with a two-point conversion to come away with a 22-0 victory.

The Hornet defense managed to hold the Pirates away from the hometown goal line several times, but were simply overpowered even though penalties and fumbles were costly to the Pirates.

The Pirates opened the contest with an 84 yard march to paydirt early in the first quarter, the beginning of an accumulation of almost 400 offensive yards before the game was concluded. Pirate Fullback Perry Halton led the opener with a 19 yard dash for the first score.

Split end and place kicker Jeff Ulrich added the first of two extra points he completed before being roughed on his third try in the fourth quarter.

The Pirates lost the ball on a fumble during their second offensive series, but the mistake paid in the second period when Danny Brown intercepted on his own 30 and then took in a Buck

Bradley pass in the endzone for the Pirates' second score.

Ulrich added the extra point to seal the first half scoring at 14-0.

Turnovers by both sides highlighted the early innings of the second half, adding the statistics which show the Pirates fumbled five times in the game and lost two. Hornets lost one of two fumbles.

The Pirates lost one interception while completing six of 13 attempts.

Pirate Tailback Bryan Charlot snatched the second interception for the Pass at his own 28 in the fourth period, but Big O bobbled at the Hornet 38 and lost possession.

The third interception by the Pirates set up their third touchdown when Tailback Oscar Bailey picked one off at his own 30 and hustled the ball all the way to the Hornet 25.

A holding infraction pushed the ball back to about the Hornet 45, one of 11 penalties which cost the Pirates 80 yards and prevented the offense from breaking the 400 mark.

The Pirates continued the drive, however, with less than two minutes left in the game.

A Bradley pass complete to Danny Lizana gave the Pirates a needed first down.

The Hornets were called for a personal foul which put the ball on the 18, and Halton carried down to the 10.

Ulrich was assisted off the field after being hit as he attempted the extra point.

With another try, the Pirates made it two points for good measure with Bradley on a keeper, sealing the fate of the Hornets at 22-0.

The Pirates meet St. Stanislaus Friday at McDonald Stadium in Pass Christian in an attempt to pull even for the year. They go into the contest against the Catholics sporting three wins and four losses.

St. Stanislaus is 6 and 2, so far.

East Central will meet St. John next Saturday in a late scheduled game.

PUNTING TO PIRATES—Gary Long of East Central Hornet gets off one of six punts in Friday night's Pirate-Hornet contest in Wade. Long kicked for a 34 yard average as the Hornet offense found it tough going against a Pass Christian defense which held their opponents to 38 yards on the ground all evening and 16 through the cool night air. Pirates copped their third victory of the season, 22-0. (Staff photo by Edgar Perez)

The Hancock North Central Hawks lost to the d'Iberville Warriors 36-19 when a second half surge failed Friday.

The Hawks had a total yardage edge of 338-281 and also led in first downs 17-6, but were unable to overcome a 23-0 halftime lead held by d'Iberville.

Two fumble losses in the first half by the Hawks, who seemed to be "up tight," hurt the HNC squad in getting any scoring punch together before d'Iberville's homecoming crowd.

The Hawks came to life in the second half and drew praises from head coach Irvin Favre for that effort.

"We played a very good second half. We gave them a good game. We could not get anything going in the first part of the game. It is hard to overcome a 23 point lead at the half," the Hawk head coach said later.

"As you know d'Iberville is one of the two undefeated teams in Pascagoula River Conference play and they have a very good team," Favre added.

As the second half started, the Hawks kicked-off to the Warriors and forced them to punt giving the Hawks the ball on their own six yard line.

Quarterback Bobby Devaughn engineered an 11-play series that covered 94 yards for a score when he rambled in on a five yard burst.

The drive saw some fine running by Devaughn, Lloyd Henry, Glen Meranto and two key passes caught by Harry Henry.

Devaughn's score and the PAT brought the score to 23-7 in favor of d'Iberville.

The explosive running of James Evans supported by David Russell's long gainers helped d'Iberville to answer the Hawks third quarter score placing the lead at 29-7 in favor of the Warriors.

The fourth quarter was all Hawks until the waning seconds as the Hawks tallied two six-point markers before the Warriors scored with seven seconds left in the game.

Devaughn sneaked in for a one yard score with 7:46 left in the game making it 29-13 in favor of d'Iberville.

Lloyd Henry scored with 2:25 left in the final stanza on a nine yard run making it 19-29 in favor of the Warriors. The try for a two point conversion failed as the other just inches from the goal line.

Hancock tried an onside kick which failed giving d'Iberville good field position for the final scoring of the game.

Favre had high praises for his offensive backfield, saying they executed well during the contest.

The Hawks did miss half-back Faron Hoda sidelined with knee injury from the Pearl River contest and also the limited play of Michael Shubert also with knee problems from last week.

d'Iberville's using a four-four defensive alignment was a little surprise to the Hawks. Favre said they had expected a five-three alignment by the Warriors.

The Hawks are idle next week and coach Favre said they plan on taking a rest for a few days before gearing up for Poplarville and thnal game with Pass Christian.

"We will be working on the basics of the game, improving our play," Favre stated.

HNC displayed some fine defensive play on containing James Evans for most of the game.

A fine defensive effort was shown by Don Moran when he leaped high into the air to block a Warrior quick pass over the middle in the fourth quarter.

There were very few penalties in the game and Favre felt the officiating was very good.

"The only problem we had was the chain gang who kept trying to run over us. They even spiked coach Shaw in the foot one time with one of the poles," Favre added, and then said, "I have never seen anything like it before."

The Hawks are 4-4 for the season and will play away from home against both Poplarville and Pass Christian to close out the regular season.

PASSING HELPS DRIVE—The Hancock North Central Hawks came out 'smoking' as they engineered an 11-play, 94-yard drive for their first score in third quarter action Friday. Quarterback Bobby Devaughn receives good protection as he sets to fire one of two pass completions to Harry Henry for long gainer. The Hawks trailing by 23 at the half brought the score to 19-29 to a startled d'Iberville homecoming crowd before the Warriors scored with only seven seconds on the clock to wrap up a 36-19 margin over Hancock. (Staff photo-Ellis Cuevas).

TUG OF WAR—Lloyd Henry carries d'Iberville defenders with him as he scores last Hawk touchdown Friday. Henry made several long gainers for Hancock behind some fine offensive blocking. The Hawks came to life in the second half after d'Iberville took a homecoming edge of 23-0 at the half. (Staff photo-Ellis Cuevas).

Garden club project wins second place

The Diamondhead Garden Club met October 15 at the Country Club with Mrs. Joseph Finley presiding. Finley reported the club scrapbook, compiled by Mrs. J.H. Feirich, had won second place competition at the Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs. She also announced the club had won a certificate of appreciation from CARE for participation in the World Gardening Project last year. A letter received from Mrs. Grover U. Berry, first vice president of the Garden Clubs of Mississippi, Inc., thanked the Diamondhead Garden Club for hosting the Spanish Trail District Meeting in September. Chairmen's reports included presentations by: Mrs. George Kollasch on litter control announcing 'Fall Clean-Up day' for Nov. 1. She urged all members attend and bring friends to help. Mrs. John Booth, birds chairman, told members how to acquire a new book by Roger T. FREE TO BE

Freedom to be is a source of fun and good nutrition for the family.

"Instead of carving your pumpkin, draw the face with magic markers," says Barbara McLaurin, food and nutrition specialist, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

"Then after Halloween, turn your pumpkin into healthy, delicious snacks. Children can participate from drawing the face, baking the pumpkin, making the snacks and eating them."

Small pumpkins can be baked whole, but cut large pumpkins in half before baking. Pierce whole pumpkins to keep them from exploding.

To bake, wash, pierce and place the pumpkin on a cookie sheet in a 325 degree oven until it either pierces with a knife or the stem pops out.

The pumpkin pulp should be soft. This takes one to three hours depending on the size of the pumpkin.

After cooling, cut into quarters and peel off the outer skin. It should be paper-thin and easy to remove.

Scoop out seeds and stringy membrane and place them in a collander. Wash the seeds under running water to remove the strings.

To bake seeds, put them on a cookie sheet, sprinkle with vegetable oil and bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. They can be salted before baking. Mrs. McLaurin says: Store in jars in a cool dry place.

To prepare the pulp, mash it with a potato masher and then put it through a collander or puree it in a blender. If not used immediately, freeze it in quantities suitable for your favorite recipes.

Staff to plan library exhibits

Bicentennial display case exhibits at the City County Public Library in Bay St. Louis are currently being scheduled by Mrs. Sherry Schwabacher, a member of the library staff.

She replaces Mrs. Joe Pilet who had served voluntarily as coordinator-publisher for library exhibits since the installation of the exhibit case.

"I have enjoyed this service and am ever grateful to both the persons who generously exhibited and to the Sea Coast Echo for splendid cooperation, however it would seem more practical at this point for Mrs. Schwabacher to handle these details since she is a full time employee and readily available during library hours," Mrs. Pilet said.

The display case, a bi-centennial gift to the library, was purchased with funds made available through city, county and public donations. A plaque at the base of the case gives credit to those who contributed.

Mrs. Schwabacher said the display case has become very popular with a waiting list extending into 1983 of those who wish to participate.

Exhibits will include a wide-range of subject matter, she added.

DSU sponsors New York trip for college credit

Delta State University's Division of Home Economics and Department of Art are co-sponsoring a trip to New York in March, 1981, that will enable students and the public to earn three hours credit along with sight-seeing.

Maureen Brooks, assistant professor of home economics, and Malcolm Norwood, chairman of the Department of Art, are coordinating the campus portion of the trip, while the field studies Center of New York is organizing the seminars, workshops and field trips.

Delta State's fashion merchandising program will offer class work prior to the New York trip to prepare students for the New York classrooms.

"Since fashions are first seen and sampled in New York, the city should prove to be an excellent off-campus classroom," Mrs. Brooks said. "The fashion merchandising activities will concentrate on various aspects of marketing fashion apparel from the designer, manufacturer and retailer points of view."

Norwood, who has planned several art study trips to Europe for Delta State students, said he is looking forward to returning to New York with students and other interested persons for private tours and lectures at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, Museum of Modern Art and the Guggenheim Museum.

"We will visit the SoHo Artists' studios, an interior design seminar; an advertising-graphic arts seminar, and will go on historical and contemporary architectural tours," Norwood explained.

Participants will spend seven days attending seminars and visiting professionals. Some free time will be allowed students to visit places not scheduled for the study tour.

Three hours credit also will be offered through the Department of Art for the art field study.

Students interested in making the trip should register for the field study during Spring Semester registration in January.

For additional information contact, Mrs. Brooks in the Division of Home Economics or Norwood in the Department of Art, Delta State University, Cleveland, MS 38733.

There's an Answer!

Embarrassed to ask

Q. We just lost our 36-year-old son. He was accidentally electrocuted. He was a Christian, a very fine boy, a good husband and father. It is so hard to accept.

We have so many questions but are embarrassed to ask our pastor. Does our son see and know us now? If he does not see us or remember us now will he recognize us when we get to heaven? Will his body be young and ours old? Does he hear our prayers of love for him or see us decorate his grave? What can we do to relieve our aching hearts and heal the wound?

A. You need not be embarrassed to speak with your pastor. He understands and loves you. I can only tell you my own belief that your son will love you, knows your life, watches over you, and I believe you will meet him again. Know him and be with him forever. In the eternity, where he now lives, earthly time is but as a fleeting moment. What seems to us, in mortality, as long years is but "as a watch in the night" to him. Looking at you from the perspective of eternity he knows you are watched over by God, as he is also.

We are sending you our booklet Let Not Your Heart be Troubled, which has helped others who were in sorrow. Anyone wishing a free copy may write to us at Box 500, Pawling, N.Y. 12564.

Hurt those the loves Q. I need to learn to control my emotions when I become angry, which I'm sorry to say is quite often and over very trivial incidents. At times I also feel a desire to hurt people. My mother is the dearest person in the world to me and I often wonder why I make remarks to hurt her. My father died at a young age and she has had to raise us on her own. She has done a wonderful job. I also hurt my boyfriend who is sweet and patient with me. Why do I do this to two people who are so dear to me?

A. It is a fact that we can hate those we love the most dearly. It is an ambivalence of feeling called the love-hate reaction and it is basically an infantile attitude. It's like a child saying to its mother, "I hate you," perhaps as a result of being denied something, and the next moment throwing arms around her and saying, "Mommy, I love you."

The next time you feel anger rising up, control it. You may be surprised that you can do it, but it will show you that you can overcome. And the second and third times will be increasingly easier.

Better try this or your life can be miserable.

Fresh Vegetable Vinaigrette

Fresh vegetables, interesting spices and no-cholesterol Hollywood Safflower Oil make this a logical family dish to be served this spring and summer. It's healthy and tasty—and there's no cooking.

- | | |
|-------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| 2 medium tomatoes, sliced | 1 teaspoon sugar |
| 1/2 lb. mushrooms, sliced | 1 teaspoon salt |
| 1 cup broccoli florets | 1 teaspoon dried parsley flakes |
| 1 cup cauliflower florets | 1/2 teaspoon pepper |
| 1/2 cup celery, sliced | 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard |
| 2 green onions, sliced | 1/2 teaspoon dry garlic or |
| 1 cup Hollywood safflower oil | 2 cloves fresh garlic, crushed |
| 1 cup white vinegar | |
| 2 teaspoons oregano | |

Cut all vegetables and place in glass casserole dish. Combine remaining ingredients and pour over vegetables. Cover and chill 2 to 3 hours, basting occasionally. Before serving, top with sliced green onions.

This cool vegetable dish is a fantastic change from the ordinary. Recipe from the kitchens of Hollywood Foods.

Mississippi Baptists

set Jackson meeting

The Mississippi Baptist Convention meets Nov. 11-13 in Jackson with three Southern Baptist agency chiefs among the guest speakers. In addition, the convention, composed of messengers from the more than 1,900 participating Mississippi Baptist congregations, will vote on a proposed budget of $12.7 million for missions, and education in 1981, will hear a proposal to merge financially troubled Clarke College with Mississippi College, and will elect new convention officers.

The convention kicks off Tuesday, Nov. 11 at 8:45 a.m., and concludes at 11:15 a.m. Thursday Nov. 13.

Agency directors planning to assemble at Jackson's First Baptist Church, where the convention traditionally meets, include Grady Cotten, president of the Sunday School Board; Keith Parks, executive secretary of the Foreign Mission Board; and Darold Morgan, president of the Annuity Board.

The Sunday School Board is Southern Baptists' publishing house in Nashville, Tenn.

The Foreign Mission Board employs nearly 3,000 missionaries in about 100 countries.

And the Annuity Board administers Southern Baptists' ministerial and staff retirement programs.

Outgoing president of the Mississippi Baptist Convention is Bill Causey, pastor of Jackson's Parkway Baptist Church.

Ferrell Cork, pastor of First Baptist Church, Aberdeen, is first vice president. And David Millican, pastor of South McComb Baptist Church, McComb, is second vice president.

Bill Causey will deliver the president's address Tuesday morning and Frank Gunn, pastor of First Baptist Church, Biloxi, will give the convention sermon Wednesday morning.

BY DR. L.S. WALKER

By L.S. WALKER, DD
"IF THOU HAST RUN with the footman, and they have wearied thee, then how canst thou contend with horses? and if in the land of peace, wherein thou trustedst, they wearied thee, then how wilt thou do in the swelling (flooding) of the Jordan?" Jeremiah 12:5.

In the event of a direct hit by a nuclear bomb, such as Russia's 30 to 50 megaton, on one of our larger cities, there would not be enough time nor room to run, and no place to hide, according to federal and state Civil Defense experts.

The very thought of such a horrifying experience grips the human race with fear and frustration.

Such a tragedy is possible, and could bring physical destruction to many people - both prepared and unprepared to meet God - and warns us of the need to prepare for such an eventuality.

If we cannot cope with the multiplying fears and frustrations of this present age, what will we do when the fiery indignation of Almighty God in judgement falls suddenly upon a Christ-rejecting world steeped in lawlessness?

and sin?

Regardless of whether atomic war ever comes to the world or not, the Word of God warns of the urgent need of a "hiding place" from a more eternal destruction than mere physical annihilation.

"And Enoch also, the seventh (generation) from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousands of his saints, to execute judgement upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed; and all their hard speeches which ungodly sinners have spoken against him..." Jude 15.

The Apostle Paul tells of the coming of the Lord from heaven, "in flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God..." II Thess. 1:7-8.

From the inspired pen of John on Patmos come these sobering words: "And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bondman, and every freeman, hid themselves in the dens and in the rocks of the mountains; and said unto the mountains and the rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb..." Rev. 6:16.

Thank God! There is definitely, right now, as you read this, a "hiding place" to which one, by faith, may flee! The prophet Isaiah said, "A man shall be a hiding place" Isaiah 32:2.

That Man is both God and man, the Man Jesus Christ, man's God and God's man. He gave himself a ransom for all - I Tim. 2:6. As David said, "Thou art my hiding place; thou shalt preserve me from trouble" - Psalm 32:7.

It is everyone's privilege to run to Him in sincere repentance and faith. All who do so will find Him a perfect hiding place from trouble (of time and eternity). Rock of Ages, let me hide myself in Thee!

Dr. Albert H. Domini, a child safety specialist and former medical director of the Prudential Insurance Co., says it is never easy to deny sweets to a child who loves to nibble, or to force a reluctant youngster to eat his vegetables. It is necessary, he says, that parents take steps to make sure that their children eat a well-balanced diet.

Dr. Domini points out that a child's diet, particularly in the area of sweets and starches, may lead not only to nutritional problems during childhood, but also to irregular eating habits in adult life.
